OUR APPROACH

- Data-driven analysis
- Gender sensitivity
- Sensitivity to local contexts
- Collaboration with experts
- Use of digital tools

Missouri Consulting was created based on one observation : in French-speaking Africa, young people and women have ideas, solutions and ambitions, but too often remain absent from the spaces where decisions that affect them are made.

With more than eight years of experience in designing, coordinating and evaluating development programs, the firm draws on a professional background built at the intersection of fieldwork, strategy and advocacy in contexts that are sometimes fragile and sensitive.

Through its interventions, Missouri Consulting has contributed to the implementation of mobilization, awareness-raising and education campaigns that have reached more than 10,000 young people, both in person and online.

The firm has developed the ability to translate realities into data, narratives and recommendations that can be used by governments, civil society organizations and donors.

Our expertise includes coordinating projects worth tens of millions of CFA francs. These experiences have confirmed our conviction : When young people and women are fully involved, programs become more relevant, effective and sustainable.

Through Missouri Consulting, we support organizations that want to go beyond rhetoric to co-create inclusive, intelligent solutions aligned with local priorities, where young people and women are no longer beneficiaries but full-fledged actors of change.
